Quality control

Client surveys

Client feedback is essential to continuous improvement. At Kevane Grant Thornton, we use a formal process called Client Voice, to ask clients for feedback on our services and the quality of our relationship.

Peer review

The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants requires all members engaged in the practice of public accounting to participate in mandatory practice monitoring programs (peer reviews) every three years. This is another example of our commitment to conform to professional standards. To review our most recent report, please visit our website www.grantthornton.pr.

Grant Thornton quality control review

One of the pillars of Grant Thornton's global strategy is to support member firms in their delivery of consistent high-quality service worldwide. The quality control of the services provided by the member firms is overseen by worldwide directors that provide guidance member firms on the design and implementation of their own quality control systems, to support their compliance with all applicable international and local standards through the Grant Thornton Ethics and Quality Control Manual.

Audit Services Review

Kevane Grant Thornton also participates in Grant Thornton's monitoring procedures, which reviews the conduct of the audit work performed by member firms. The program evaluates our policies and procedures against the relevant policies and procedures of the international organization, as well as professional standards. It reviews financial statements, audit reports, reports that have been issued, and the pertinent engagement files, in addition to interviewing partners and staff on various matters. This audit services review is performed every three years.

Our distinctive client experience sets us apart.

Client satisfaction remains the benchmark for our high-quality service.
We take genuine interest in our clients' needs and assure highly professional standards and agile service structures for fast response.
